

The Domestic Security Alliance Council (DSAC) is a 500+ company strategic membership formed to enhance and promote timely communication regarding security and intelligence information between the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), and the private sector.

Mission

To advance the FBI's mission of protecting and defending the U.S. against terrorist and foreign intelligence threats, and upholding and enforcing the criminal laws of the U.S. by facilitating enduring relationships between private sector member companies, the FBI, DHS, fusion centers, and other government entities.

Leadership

DSAC is led by a 10 member Executive Working Group (EWG) comprised of FBI, DHS, and private sector executives. The EWG oversees the direction of the membership program through the DSAC Leadership Council (DLC), which includes four committees: Education and Training, Intelligence and Threats, Governance and Nominating, and Strategic Planning and Operations.

Membership Eligibility

Eligible companies are for-profit companies with a US based security program, typically with annual revenue in excess of $1B USD, with an international or national scope of business and a clear nexus to national security.

Benefits:

- ✓ Direct engagement with FBI and DHS leaders and professionals
- ✓ Ongoing access to a network of diverse security experts at the highest levels of government and the private sector
- ✓ Tailored intelligence and security information from the FBI and DHS
- ✓ Access to a members-only portal where private sector members and government officials collaborate, resolve problems, exchange best practices, and share information
- ✓ Access to local, regional, and national executive events, continuing education, and conferences related to national security

How to Join:

Learn more about the membership process or complete an application by visiting: www.DSAC.gov/get-involved

To contact the DSAC program office, please email DSAC@fbi.gov.